Human Subject Payments system training now available:

On July 14, UF’s new Human Subject Payment (HSP) system went live – providing new “one-stop” shopping experience for departments, improving turnaround time and reducing the overall administrative burden of paying human subject participants in UF research studies. All new requests for human subject payments will use the new processes, which will affect how payments are coordinated, disbursed and tracked in the myUFL system.

Several new security roles have been introduced in conjunction with the new system. These roles require registration and training in the myUFL system. In addition, several live sessions will be available to employees.

For more information about the Human Subject Payments project, including answers to frequently asked questions, please visit the Human Subjects Payments section of the Finance and Accounting website or contact Suzanne Sindledecker at treasury-hsp@admin.ufl.edu or 352-392-9057.

myIRB Frequently Asked Question:

Question: I added a co-Investigator from University of Tennessee to myIRB and I was told she is not unaffiliated. Help!

Answer: For IRB purposes, “unaffiliated” means an individual that is not affiliated with a governing IRB or equivalent. University of Tennessee has an IRB so your co-Investigator must obtain IRB approval consistent with her research role on this project from her institution.
