Issues with updating your mandatory training (CITI/NIH, HIPAA, and IRB-01 Video) myIRB Technical Assistance cannot help you with research specific questions. Those questions should still be directed to the IRB-01 office at (352) 273-9600 or ufirb-l@lists.ufl.edu.

July full Board Meetings
The full Board Meetings in July have been moved to 10 July 2013 and 24 July 2013.

CME Credits

My application for CME credits for the IRB mandatory training was approved. Information related to this will be available on our website shortly. No action is needed at this time if you would like to receive CME credits. There is an optional evaluation available for completion. Please contact me if you have any questions.

Cumulative Deviation Table Revised

IRB-01 has determined that the Cumulative Deviation Table submitted with Continuing Reviews needed to include not only minor deviations as it has in the past, but also major deviations. As a result the form has been updated to include all deviations along with a column to indicate if the deviation is major.

Please note that researchers will be required to include this new form with all Continuing Reviews submitted on or after June 1st, 2013.

Important note: IRB-01 is not applying this requirement retroactively, i.e. you do not have to list any major deviations that occurred prior to this requirement on June 1st, 2013. PIs must only include major deviations that occur on or after June 1st 2013 and after on the table. Minor deviations that occurred on or after January 1st, 2008 must still be listed.

The new form is available on our alphabetical listing of forms at: http://irb.ufl.edu/irb01/forms1.htm
